LOCAL NEWS.

Skating as usual to-night.
The Opera was well attended last evening.
Mosquitoes still have their say in Honolulu.

Honolulu Rifle's caps were to be seen on the streets last night.

Our Paul Neumann is a "brick," that's what they say in "Frisco."

The Honolulu "dude" takes the cake, when he gets the chance.

No 6. maceration mill at the Honolulu Iron Works is well under way.

The programme was excellently rendered by the Band at the last performance.

San Francisco boasts of a "glorious climate," but Honolulu can beat it "all hollow" when it comes to polio.

The regatta on the 16th of November will be a surprise to the public.

The programme will be published soon.

H. R. H. Liliuokalani and suite attended the circus last evening. They were very much pleased with the performance.

Last night the steamer Planter took two trash elevators and cane carriers, one each for the Hanamaulu and Lihue plantations.

Mr. Tommie Krouse will take charge of the Saratoga House this morning and will assume the temporary management of the premises.

The people of Waimea are circulating a petition to the Minister of the Interior to rebuild the bridge over the Waimea river, Kauai.

The case of G. Cabral vs. M. M. Taylor and L. A. Andrews came up in the Civil Court yesterday. It was an action on a note for $200.00 Judgment for plaintiff; commission and costs $15.85.

Yesterday afternoon while the prisoners were shoveling out the debt on Merchant street which they owe the Government, one Chinaman performed a surgical operation upon the nose of a fellow convict by striking him just below the eyes with a shovel. Damage, black eyes and broken nose.

Yesterday afternoon two little native boys gave a public exhibition on Fort street in front of Goo Kim's store. They were engaged in mauling each other in the true Sullivian style when Mort Oat came along and stumbled over both of them, putting the enemy to immediate flight. No arrests.

A Chinese fruit vendor, who frequents this vicinity of Hotel and Alakea streets, was detected the other morning taking some articles from a clothes line, after he had made his usual percent on vegetables. The lady who owned the articles was content to let him go after he had put them back.

From the frequency of runaway cases of carriage horses in town of late, it is a natural conclusion to assume that many, if not the bulk, of such animals at present in use in Honolulu are unfit to be allowed to be driven. When some one is killed by these refractory animals, some steps will be taken to remedy the evil.

Mr. Throver of the Farani opera troupe will be given a benefit next Friday night at Music Hall. The benefit has been tendered by several gentlemen and others, who appreciate good music and will doubtless be as well received by those who understand as the previous concerts given by foreign troupes have not been understood by the Honolulu public.

It is stated that a great many vehicles come to grief on account of the bad condition of the Manoa Valley road. As the residents of the valley pay their full share of taxes it seems that some of the money should be expended on this much used thoroughfare. Mr. Thomas, the contractor, declares the road impossible in good weather; what it must be in bad is left to the imagination of the indulgent public.

Mr. J. D. Arnold a member of the G. W. De Long Post and an artisan well-better of this Kingdom, sent to his comrade R. J. Green a photograph of the portable works for well-boring, being an apparatus erected by the Queensland Government under the direction of Mr. Arnold. Mr. Arnold expects to make the dry and parched lands of Australia blossom like the rose in the next ten months. The contract entered into by Mr. Arnold with the Queensland Government calls for the sinking of a well 2,500 feet in depth with the contract limit of time placed at ten months.

The adultery case of Captain Tripp is still remanded on account of the lawyers being engaged in the Supreme Court—the case will be doubtless continued until the public have interest in it.

It is stated that a number of petty thefts are being perpetrated in this town. May we be permitted to enquire where our police are—when they are not asleep you know the mosquitos are very bad.

Since 1879 each of the feet of one of our esteemed citizens has grown two sizes longer. He is now obliged to wear number 12. We know of no recent evidence so convincing as this that the climate of the Hawaiian Islands stimulates so much growth.

A horse attached to a buggy took fright at a passing wagon on Fort street yesterday afternoon. In the wagon were a lady and two small girls. Had it not been for the presence of mind of a native policeman, we might have been compelled to chronicle a sad catastrophe.

There was quite a merry time at the circus the other night when the fellow who wore the coats and played drunk was handed in by a policeman. The poor clown had a lonesome time of it all to himself, while another of the ring boys was sent to haul in the policeman and bring the 'orse man back. The King's brave cop almost nipped the arm of the poor acrobat. As Honolulu policeman don't often get exercise it is asserted that they don't know how to take hold of a man when they have a chance.

The awning poles which flap at the ends of the canvass screens which fend the sunlight on Nuuanu and Hotel streets ought at least to be tied so as to hold them in position. Day before yesterday one of these swinging poles struck a wayfarer over the eye as he was passing along the street and sent him home with a beautiful Mansard roof over his eye. If somebody, who gets hurt by the carelessness of such people, others would bring suit, they would only do its duty by going a verdict for a good round sum.

The circus last night was a success, as usual, there was a large audience present but not so large as the night before. The new programme which was so well performed last night was not in any way an improvement upon the excellent performance of the night before, because the troupe makes it a point not to vary the programme so as to disappoint the public or raise full blown expectations for the future. The La Perche Equipose act by Messrs. Culvert and King was one of the best things of the evening. The performance, taken as a whole, was as good as any that has ever been offered the public here and will not be forgotten by those who will not forget the merry clown and the prancing horses.

They say: that a few people in Honolulu are trusted with the characters of others; that the end of the Hawaiian Government will either be bankruptcy or annexation; that the Attorney General is looking much better, politically, since his trip to the coast; that the best people in the world are not those who make the claim themselves; that the sun-burned faces of the boys on Monday mornings is a dead give-away on the Sunday shooting racket; that the ducks should be allowed to keep the Sabbath, if the boys do not; that the merriest time of all the year is midnight; that the Hawaiian political circus must do both ground and lofty tumbling if they wish to fool the people; that the "most unkindest cut of all" was given the King by his own ministers; that the string of the Government's purse means better times in official circles; that the sermons preached by Pastor Cruzar are as good as those preached by Talmage; that the end of the opium string found in the harbor a short time ago would have led to marble halls if it had been followed up; that Deputy Marshall Dayton never takes boat rides for nothing; that the Government officials ought to get up a crew and enter the coming races against the Honolulu; that in this instance at least they would have a chance to win; that the most people can expect in the coming elections will be a chance to express their indignation; that the most fun of the gay boys consists in finding out whether they have had fun or not; and that the end of official promise is the breath that blows it out.

The Opera.
A large and appreciative audience assembled at Music Hall last evening to listen to the sweet strains of Signor Farini's Opera Company. The quartette by Regollette was sung in the best of style and was recalled. The aria from Maritana sung by Miss Amy was sweetly performed and loudly applauded. Mlle. Marie Zora sang her encore number first after which she sang Le Lucin in the most beautiful manner. The duet by Mlle. Emma Hopf and Mr. Chas. Throver was enthusiastically recalled when they sang the "Swallow song."

Signor A. Farini sang by request "Infelice" instead of "Der Wanderer" and was loudly applauded and recalled but bowed himself off owing to the delicacy of his throat which is still sore. The piano solo by Mons. A. Marchand was well rendered. Il Trovatore was elegantly mounted as far as the costumes were concerned but the troupe lacked the scenery, especially the tower. It should be noticed that proper scenery is always necessary to the proper performance of an opera and in the present case it has not been furnished by the men who own the properties of the theatre. The singing of the troupe was perhaps the best that has yet been given, and it is very possible that if the troupe had the time before them they would be able to prove that either they have been slandered or the people of Honolulu have been mistaken as to their merits.

Answer to Correspondents.

Z. K.—Yes, we presume Mr. Tripp will be retained in his position until the people mob him.

The Best.—Yes, we suppose you are, but you will please let us know in the sweet after-a-while-as-it-were-so-to-speak.

Come In.—Yes, we think you had better not; if the hack drivers can't give you a red-headed answer then the police had not better try.

Come One.—Yes, the King street Bridge is in a fearful condition. If you ever go out that way you will take a tumble.
